The film also stars Munishkanth and Jayaprakash in important roles. The trailer and audio launch ceremony was held. Co-producer Shivani Subramani said, "I got interested in cinema after watching the films of directors Perarasu sir and Udayakumar sir. There is always a positive vibe when I talk to Dhananjayan sir. D. Imman is a great strength for our film. The entire crew has worked well. My mother has directed the film brilliantly. I am sure you all will like the film." Art director Muni Krishnan, "The film has come out great" Cinematographer Raja said, "We have all worked on the film with full dedication. Watch it and tell us." Actor Jayaprakash said, "I don't know the entire story of the film. I only know the scenes that concern me. But now that I've seen the trailer, it's amazing. The director has chosen the best actors and technical team. Congratulations to the producer, director and all the crew." Producer Dhananjayan said, "Director Malarvizhi has come into cinema from a different field due to his passion for cinema. I have seen the film. It is different and interesting. Recently, good films have been coming out in Tamil cinema. They are also doing well. This film should also join that list. We have presented many demands from the producers to the Tamil Nadu government. They are being fulfilled one by one. Congratulations on the success of the film." Director R.V. Udayakumar said, “Tamil cinema cannot be separated from our daily lives. That is why Chief Ministers are made from here. Congratulations to director Malarvizhi and his daughter, who have come to cinema from a different field. This film has come out on top. Small budget films need the support of the film industry and fans. Everyone who acted and worked in this film should go to a bigger place. Congratulations". Director Perarasu said, "If a film is made by someone who runs a school, he would definitely have told a good story. I have that faith in director Malarvizhi. After Ilayaraja, Iman is the one who gives the most touching music. The trailer shows that Santosh Pratap and the other actors and technical team have all worked well. Congratulations for the success of the film." Editor Kalaivanan said, "Small films are what keep technical artists like me alive. Even if we don't congratulate them, we should protect them. I came here to record the same. Malarvizhi madam has worked hard to make the film. Watch the film in theaters and celebrate." Lyricist Mohanraja said, "I wrote the song Jojo in this film. It is a heartfelt song. I have worked with Iman in many films. Thank you for this opportunity. Director Malarvizhi madam and I are from the same area in Chennai. The film will definitely be a success. Santosh should act as the hero in many more films. Thank you to everyone who came." 'Blast' director Subhash said, "I was surprised to hear that the director and producer are both doing the directing and the production. The film will definitely be a success because of this hard work. Santosh bro, who works hard, should go to even bigger places. Imman's music is great. I definitely need all of your support for this film." Actor Vidharth said, "Actor Pratap is very gentle and treats everyone with kindness. This film should be successful because of him. If Dhananjayan sir has seen this film, then the film must have been amazing. The support of my music director Imman has added more strength to this film. Best wishes for the success of the film." Actress Bhavya, "Thank you to director Malarvizhi ma'am for giving me the opportunity. He has worked hard. It was a pleasure working with Santosh and the crew. Iman sir's music is amazing. The song Jo Jo connected with me personally. This is a different psychological thriller film. I hope everyone likes it." Actress Fujitha, "Signal is a very special film for me. Thank you to Malar ma'am for giving me the opportunity. Very talented, positive co-star Santosh. No combination with Bhavya. But, I knew her before. Imman sir's music is magic. Thank you to the entire crew." Actor Santosh said, "Thank you to Malar ma'am for giving me a chance in this film. If we are all the crown of this film, then the diamond on top is the music composer Iman sir. I am happy to have danced to his song. After many years, if I have danced to a song in a film, it is in the film Signal. Women in society have progressed in many fields. They have always come first. Although there are always many obstacles, we have learned to resist and overcome them. So Malarvizhi madam will go to great places. The film definitely needs all of your support." Director Malarvizhi Nadesan said, "This is my second film. I am a fan of the films of many people who are here, including directors of films I have admired, such as Udayakumar sir and Perarasu sir. It is a dream come true that they have come as special guests to congratulate my film. The fact that Dhananjayan sir has won the film has given me great confidence. I think that music is very important for a film. Imman sir's music is a huge strength for this film. Imman sir has contributed a lot to the success of this film. Thank you to him. Thank you to Santhosh, Fujitha, Bhavya and my technical team. This film definitely needs all of your support." Music composer D. Iman said, "Beyond the story of this film, I composed the music for this film because I wanted to work with a female director. It is a healthy thing for an academic director to come to cinema. Santhosh Pratap will definitely go to a big place. The heroines have acted beautifully. Thank you to all the guests who came to support the film. Watch the film and tell me."
