RX – TRUTH ALWAYS DEMANDS A VOICE!

CHENNAI – 11 Nov, 2026 RX – TRUTH ALWAYS DEMANDS A VOICE! Lokesh Kanagaraj's G Squad joins hands with Indian cinema powerhouse Mythri Movie Makers for an intriguing new film starring Regina Cassandra, Nassar and Ramesh Thilak In an exciting collaboration that brings together two prominent names in Indian cinema, filmmaker Lokesh Kanagaraj's G Squad joins hands with leading production house Mythri Movie Makers for RX, an intriguing new film featuring Regina Cassandra, Nassar and Ramesh Thilak in pivotal roles. The first-look poster of the film was unveiled today. Mythri Movie Makers – A Leading Force in Indian Cinema Founded by Naveen Yerneni and Y. Ravi Shankar, Mythri Movie Makers has emerged as one of India's leading production houses, making a significant contribution to the growth and reach of Telugu cinema. With successful films such as Srimanthudu, Rangasthalam, Uppena and the blockbuster Pushpa franchise, the banner has consistently backed ambitious filmmaking and compelling storytelling. Expanding its footprint across industries, Mythri has also made a significant mark in Tamil cinema with films such as Ajith Kumar's Good Bad Ugly and Modha Raathiri. Its growing presence across languages reflects its vision of building a truly pan-Indian production footprint. The association with Lokesh Kanagaraj's G Squad for RX further reinforces Mythri's commitment to exploring new creative partnerships and supporting distinctive storytelling across industries. A New Creative Partnership The collaboration also reflects an encouraging trend in contemporary Indian cinema, where established and popular directors are increasingly extending their creative vision into film production. By partnering with established production companies, these filmmaker-producers are creating opportunities for fresh talent, original ideas and content-oriented storytelling. This emerging model brings together creative freedom, production expertise, financial strength and wider market reach, encouraging distinctive narratives beyond conventional commercial templates. Introducing RX The first-look poster of RX presents a striking visual composition, with Regina Cassandra in a compelling central portrayal, alongside Nassar in an intriguing appearance. Carrying the evocative tagline, "Truth Always Demands a Voice!", the poster establishes an atmosphere of mystery and anticipation without revealing the film's central narrative. Directed by Vishal Venkat, who earned recognition for his distinctive storytelling through films such as Sila Nerangalil Sila Manidhargal and Bomb, RX is based on a story by Hariharan Raju, with dialogues penned by Ashameera Aiyappan. The film also features Ramesh Thilak and Sreeja Ravi in important roles. The technical team comprises Hesham Abdul Wahab for music, S.K. Selvakumar for cinematography, G.K. Prasanna for editing and K. Manoj Kumar for art direction. RX is produced by Naveen Yerneni and Y. Ravi Shankar under the prestigious Mythri Movie Makers banner, in association with Lokesh Kanagaraj's G Squad. Pradeep Boopathi

is the co-producer. The entire shoot has been completed in Chennai, marking the successful completion of principal photography. With Mythri Movie Makers' proven production experience, Lokesh Kanagaraj's creative initiative G Squad and a talented team led by Vishal Venkat, RX brings together an interesting combination of creative vision and production strength. As Indian cinema increasingly embraces collaborations that encourage fresh voices and original storytelling, RX is poised to be an interesting addition to this evolving cinematic landscape. More exciting updates about RX will follow soon.
